code meaning

At any time within twelve months after sealing of a patent, any person interested who did not oppose the grant of the patent may apply to the comptroller for an order revoking the patent on one or more of the grounds upon which the grant could have been opposed. These grounds are: obtaining; prior publication/ claiming/use; obviousness; insufficiency; and for convention applications, the application not made in time. The applicant for revocation must file a statement setting out his interest, full details of the case on which he relies and the relief sought. The patentee must file a counter statement setting out his response. Failure to file a counterstatement leads to the patentee's case being treated as undefended. The application is heard by the comptroller and there is an appeal from any decision. An appeal to the Patents Appeal Tribunal not heard before 1 June 1978 is transferred to the Patents Court and prosecuted under the 1949 Patents Act.
