code meaning

At any time within twelve months after sealing of a patent, any person interested who did not oppose the grant of the patent may apply to the comptroller for an order revoking the patent on one or more of the grounds upon which the grant of the patent could have been opposed. These grounds are: insufficiency; prior publication/claiming/use; obviousness; not an invention; insufficiency; and for convention applications, the application not made in time. The applicant for revocation must file a statement setting out his interest, full details of the case on which he relies and the relief sought. The patentee must file a counterstatement setting out his response. The application is heard by the comptroller and there is an appeal from any decision to the Patents Appeal Tribunal if heard before 1 June 1978 or to the Patents Court if heard from 1 June 1978. In the event the comptroller's decision to amend the specification is appealed against by the patentee and the appeal is allowed, the applicant for revocation may appeal from the comptroller's decision not to revoke the patent and if this is successful the patent is revoked.
