code meaning

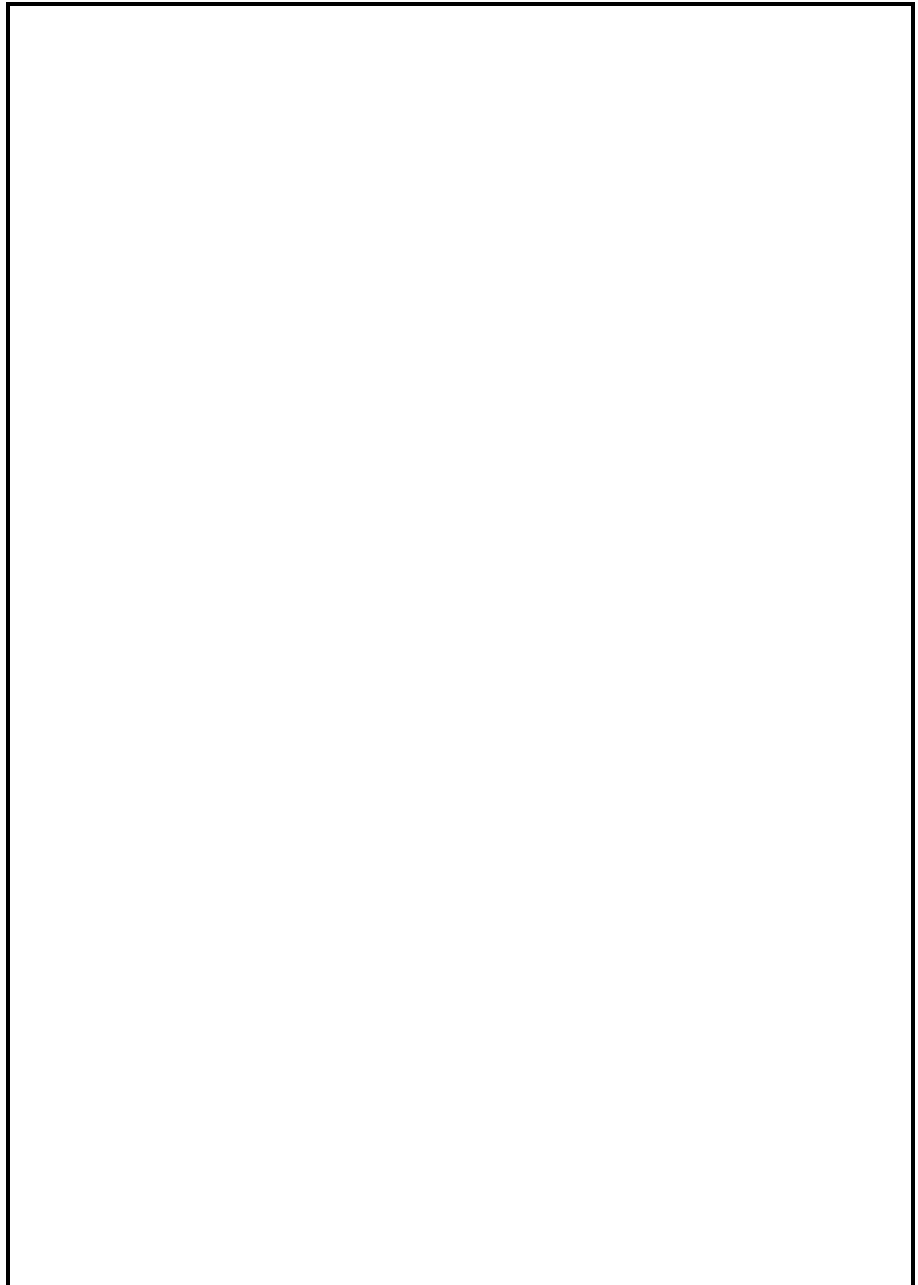

At any time within twelve months after sealing of a patent, any person interested who did not oppose the grant of the patent may apply to the comptroller for an order revoking the patent on one or more of the grounds upon which the grant could have been opposed. These grounds are: obtaining; prior publication; prior claiming; prior use; obviousness; not an invention; insufficiency; and for convention applications, the application not made in time. The application for revocation must file a statement setting out his interest, full details of the case on which he relies and the relief sought. The patentee must file a counterstatement if the case is not to be treated as undefended. The application is heard by the comptroller. The applicant may, as a result of the hearing, withdraw the application and this will be advertised in the Official Gazette.
