code meaning

At any time after the expiration of three years from the date of sealing of a patent, any person interested may apply to the comptroller for a licence under the patent or for the patent to be endorsed licences of right. The grounds upon which the application may be made are that the invention is not being commercially worked; that a demand for the patented article is not being met; that the working of the patent in the UK is being hindered by importation of the patented article; that the patentee is imposing unfair or unreasonably prejudiced conditions for the grant of a licence. If an order is made for the grant of a licence then this is advertised in the Official Gazette. The patentee may oppose the granting of a licence by application to the Patents Appeal Tribunal.
