code meaning

Section 72: Power to revoke patents on application 72.01 This section provides for the revocation of patents granted under the 1977 Act. including European patents (UK). It is not concerned with the revocation of patents granted under the 1949 Act. which continues to be dealt with under ss.32 and 33 of that Act. as amended by Schedule 1 paragraphs band 7 of the 1977 Act (but see 72.36). Section 72(1) and (2) are so framed as to have. as nearly as practicable. the same effects as the corresponding provisions of the EPC and CPC. Articles 100 and 138(1) of the EPC and Article 57(1) of the CPC appear to be in question. 72.02 The following discussion is largely concerned with revocation proceedings brought before the comptroller; some procedural requirements are laid down in r.75. Procedure in all application to the court. which is outside the scope of this Manual, is governed by Order 104 of the Rules of the Supreme Court. Section 75: Amendment of patent in infringement or revocation proceedings 75.01 This section is concerned with the amendment of the specification of a granted patent. including a European patent (UK). during proceedings in which the validity of the patent may be put in issue. Such proceedings are defined in s.74(1). and the definition is somewhat broader than the title of s.75 might appear to imply. It does not include revocation proceedings initiated by the comptroller under s.73. 75.02 There are two distinct procedures, depending on whether the proceedings are taking place before the comptroller or the court. In the former case the procedure is governed in part by s.78. while in the latter case it is subject to Rule 3 of Order 104 of the Rules of the Supreme Court. 75.03 Amendment of patents granted under the 1949 Act continues to be governed by s.29.31 of that Act.
